

Real Estate Investment & Development Analyst

Winter 2018

Washington, DC

The Pinkard Group is a real estate development and investment firm that is seeking a bright and motivated candidate to fill an Analyst role that offers significant potential for advancement and the opportunity to join an exciting firm entering its next stage of growth. The Analyst would work directly with the Principals of the firm on current development projects and new investments.

Position Responsibilities:

- Underwrite, research and due diligence potential investments across a variety of property types, including ascertaining a property's development/re-development potential
- Assist in the execution of current development or re-positioning projects including conceptualizing design, interfacing with consultants, securing entitlements/permits, budgeting and financial analysis
- Prepare Investment Summaries to present to potential investment partners and lenders
- Interact directly with Principals of the firm and the greater real estate investment community
- Work across property types and through the various stages of an investment's life cycle

Candidate Background and Qualifications:

- Strong work ethic, integrity, and an ability to thrive in an ever-changing entrepreneurial environment
- Prior work experience in real estate with a developer, REIT, bank, real estate broker, real estate advisor, mortgage lender, insurance company, or investment firm
- Strong academic record
- Entrepreneurial mindset – a self-starter who can function independently, and as part of a small team
- A commitment to a high-quality work product
- Demonstrated leadership qualities through academic or extracurricular experiences
- Working knowledge of the greater Washington DC real estate market preferred
- Strong verbal communication and written presentation skills as well as demonstrated ability to think critically
- Financial modeling experience and advanced Excel capability. Familiarity with real estate specific software such as Argus is a plus
- Experience with repositioning/entitlement/development processes preferred

The Pinkard Group offers a stimulating and entrepreneurial working environment, a culture predicated on team first and a commitment to maintaining the highest ethical standards. The right candidate will be afforded significant potential for advancement within the firm.

Compensation: Salary plus discretionary bonus – total compensation will be commensurate with experience
